Petersburg, Va., August 1.

It is not expected that the Dupont Powder Company will actually begin operations on the large tract of land recently purchased on James River, near City Point, until the fall. All surveying in the mean time for the location of the big plant for manufacturing and storing explosives and for the houses of the large number of employees, is being done to get in readiness for building. Several hundred men will be given employment, all of whom will live on the grounds adjoining the plant.

Funeral of a Priest.

The funeral of the late Rev. Father John H. Kunkel, will take place tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock from the Sacred Heart Church in Prince George county, of which he was for six years the pastor. The services will be conducted by the Rev. Father O'Rourke, of this city, and the burial will be in the Catholic cemetery. Many persons in this city will attend the funeral. Father Kunkel was appointed pastor of the Bohemian settlement in Prince George by the late Bishop Van de Vyver, and he was a devoted and diligent pastor. He was a native of Poland and died at his residence in Prince George, Va., on July 28, 1912.

Death of Octogenarian.

Mrs. Cornelia Helen White, widow of Samuel M. White, died shortly before noon today at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. James H. Matteson, of South Street, in the eighty-fourth year of her age. She had been in feeble health for some time, but her death was not expected. She is survived in this city by her daughter, Mrs. Matteson, and her son, Mr. Matteson, of Philadelphia, and Mrs. M. H. Baxter and Mrs. James H. Matteson of this city.

Deaths Away.

Charles W. Turner, Jr., eighteen years old, a former resident of Petersburg, died in Cranston, N. J., on July 28, and his body was brought to the city and buried in Highland cemetery yesterday afternoon. He was the son of the Rev. Charles W. Turner, a former pastor of Highland Methodist Episcopal Church. The Turners were local Methodist ministers.

Death of Franklin Bishop.

Franklin Bishop, a well known and much esteemed citizen, after a protracted illness, died last night at his home on Haymarket Street, aged fifty-four years. A son, Alonzo Bishop, died several days ago. Deceased is survived by four sons, Frank, Arthur, Roger and Harry, and three daughters, Alice, Annie and Virginia Bishop, and Mrs. Nellie Alford, all of this city. A curious circumstance occurred in connection with Mr. Bishop's death. After it was thought death had ended his sufferings, his face was shaved, and the body was being prepared for burial, when signs of life were shown. Restoratives were administered and physicians summoned, but death finally occurred about half an hour later.

Personal and Otherwise.

Mrs. William Charles Powell left yesterday for her country home, "Kewington House," in Campbell county, to spend some weeks. The estate is of historic interest, in that it has been owned in Mrs. Powell's family for over two centuries, having been a grant to her ancestor, Colonel Jeremiah Powell, by George III. anterior to the War of the Revolution.

Dr. Samuel M. Wilson, of Charlottesville, Va., is visiting his mother, Mrs. R. T. Wilson, at her suburban home in Dinwiddie county, near Petersburg.

The Hastings Court will probably adjourn for the term this week until September. No court will be held in August.

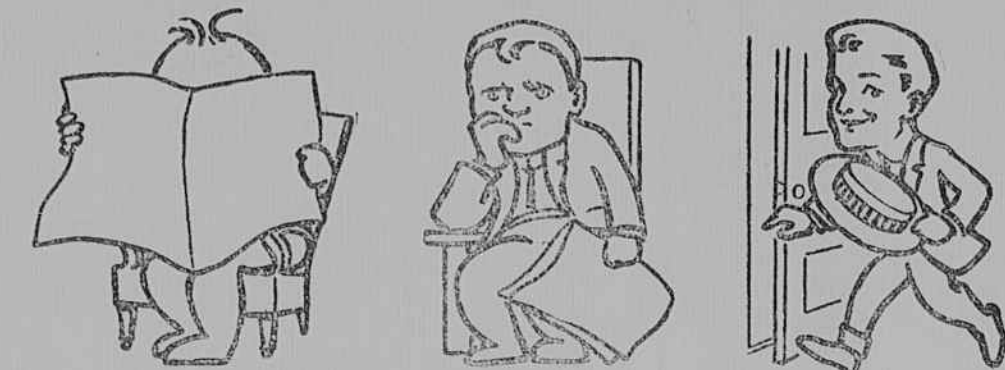

The receipts for the two markets in this city for the month of July were $225.

A protracted meeting will begin at Sycamore Church, in Prince George county, on Sunday next, to continue throughout the week.

The report of the Chief of Police for the month of July shows a total of 101 arrests. Among the causes of arrest were: Drunkenness, seventy-eight; larceny, eleven; violations of justice, six; larceny, eleven; four misdeamors, seventeen; violations of city ordinances, thirty; other offenses, eleven.

A telegram from Lynn, Mass., announced the marriage in that city today of James H. Gray, a prominent politician, and member of the Common Council of this city.

Quarantine Prevents Exhibit.

Several weeks ago the Norfolk and Western Railway Company through its agricultural and industrial department, notified the officials of the various fair associations in Virginia of the intention of the company to put on an attractive live stock exhibit from the experimental farm in Southampton. This farm is in the quarantine belt, and it has developed that quarantine restrictions will prevent the exhibit. This is a matter much to be regretted.

M'MILLIN LEADS FOUR OPPONENTS

Early Returns Indicate That He Has Been Nominated for Governor.

Nashville, Tenn., August 1.—Early returns from today's Democratic primary held throughout the State show that ex-Governor Benton McMillin is far in the lead of his four opponents in the race for the Democratic nomination for Governor. In practically all sections of the State the vote is very light, indicating that many of the independent Democrats refused to participate in the primary. McMillin polled 2,245 votes in twenty-one of the twenty-five wards of Nashville which finished their count early. Thomas J. Tyne was next, with 517; Thomas H. Preston received 267 votes; Walter B. Paulkner's vote was 170, and W. H. Crabtree received seventeen votes. Reports from the Ninth Congressional District, where there is a congressional primary, indicate that the incumbent, Finis J. Garrett, is in the lead of his opponent, J. C. Caldwell.

Nashville, Tenn., August 1.—Benton McMillin was an easy winner today in the Democratic primary to select a candidate for Governor. It was estimated at midnight that he had carried at least seventy-five counties and will poll about half a total vote of probably 50,000.

The vote was light all over the State, and was especially light in Memphis and Nashville. Independent Democrats evidently kept out of the primary. Ordinarily a Democratic State primary should poll 120,000 votes, and in the light between Governor Patterson and the late Senator Carmack for the gubernatorial nomination about 150,000 votes were polled.

Thomas H. Preston, the second candidate in the race, carried Hamilton, Lauderdale, Boone and several other East Tennessee counties. Walter Paulkner, of Tennessee, came in third in the gubernatorial race, while Thomas J. Tyne, of Nashville, and W. H. Crabtree, of Chattanooga, are close contestants for fourth place. Judge Pelim M. Moore (Democrat) was an easy winner over H. S. Tate (Republican) for the judge of the Court of Civil Appeals. Representative Finis J. Garrett had no trouble in outdistancing his opponent, Judge D. J. Caldwell for the Democratic congressional nomination.

Delegates were also elected today for a State Democratic convention on August 15 to frame a platform.

ELKS' NEW HOME, DANVILLE

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) Danville, Va., August 1.—The accompanying reproduction represents the new home of the local body of Elks, and will appear when completed next December. The building of this handsome home is now well under way, and January will see it occupied by the Elks, who at the present time have temporary quarters over a drug store on Main Street.

The site of the new home is generally regarded as being the most desirable on Main Street. It will be the first building in the city proper as one descends it, and it commands a view up the residential quarter and down the business section.

The total cost of it will be $20,000, and when completed, it will be probably the most handsome building on the street. Three stories in height, it will be built of stone, the exterior being of velvet brick and colored tiles. Over the Main Street entrance there will be a large porch ten feet wide and forty-six feet long with a tiled floor. In the center of the porch will stand a pedestal upon which will be placed a large bronze elk. Covering the porch will be an iron pergola, upheld by iron chains. There will be two entrances to the building, one on Floyd Street and the other in the rear of the home.

In the basement there will be a spacious billiard room twenty-eight feet by thirty-eight and a half feet, carpeted with blue and white, and furnished with billiard tables. There will also be a large open fireplace, and a large room will give access to the rathskeller, a room slightly larger than the former and provided with Pullmans to seat four people. The rathskeller will have oak wainscoting and will be furnished with oak furniture.

In the basement there will also be a private dining room thirteen feet square, and this room will open on the rear summer porch, which will be a roomy one. A kitchen and pantry and all the necessities for an elaborate cuisine will be installed in the basement, as well as a large refrigerator, storage room and barber shop.

On the first floor, which will be three feet above sidewalk, will be the grand social room, twenty-eight feet by forty-seven feet, with two large fireplaces. There also will be the secretary's office and a private office leading from it. The banquet hall will join the grand social room by a lofty foyer. This hall will also serve as the auditorium. The floor of this room will be made of tile, and in the rear of the room will be a stage twenty-three feet by ten, which will be specially adapted for dramatic productions. Two dressing rooms will give access to this platform.

A mezzanine floor or balcony will extend around the grand social room, making the entire first floor very lofty.

The second floor will be devoted to a lounge room, an ante room, a candidate's room and a paraphernalia room. There will also be six bedrooms, fourteen feet square in this floor, and immediately above these rooms will be eight more bedrooms.

SOCIAL CLUB'S CLOSE CALL

Explosion in Building Shortly After Meeting Is Ended.

New York, Aug. 1.—A dynamite bomb exploded early today in the hallway of a Second Avenue tenement building, tearing a great hole in the floor of the hall, occupied by the Elks' Home, a social organization of Italian youths, which had finished its monthly business meeting only a few minutes before the explosion. The youths are said to have received several threatening letters, presumably from young men who had been denied membership in the club.

The police believe that the bomb was intended to explode during the meeting in which case it would without doubt have killed and injured a large majority of those present.
